Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on July 12, 2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1 and 3-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 4,886,550 to Alexander et al. in view of 2002/056404 to Chatterji

Alexander discloses a grout composition comprising sodium bentonite, calcium bentonite, a silica material and a dispersant in amounts commensurate with those claimed herein by applicants. Alexander differs from the instantly claimed invention in the failure to recite a carbon source. See particularly claim 1 and column 5.

Chatterji is relied on for the teaching that carbon sources such as graphite are known additives to grout compositions. It would have been obvious to add the carbon source taught by Chatterji to the composition of Alexander to arrive at the instantly claimed composition because Chatterji teaches the carbon material increases thermal conductivity. See particularly paragraph [0029].

Regarding limitations in the dependent claims such as specific amounts of components, particle sizes and one sack products, it is considered that the reference broadly discloses such features and the skilled artisan can clearly optimize within the disclosed ranges of the prior art of record in this application. Additionally, any such limitations are considered to be result-effective variables known in this field of technology.

Conclusion

Applicants are advised that any evidence to be provided under 37 CFR 1.131 or 1.132 and any amendments to the claims and specification should be submitted prior to final rejection to be considered timely. It is anticipated that the next office action will be a final rejection.
